May 3rd, 2020 - Kavanagh's first published work appeared in 1928 in the Dundalk Democrat and the Irish independent. Kavanagh had encountered a copy of the Irish statesman edited by Gee William Russell who published under the pen name AE and was a leader of the Irish literary revival. Russell at first rejected Kavanagh's work but encouraged him to keep submitting and he went on to publish verse by Kavanagh. "The life and work of Thomas MacGreevy: A Critical"

May 20th, 2020 - Joyce with whom he was associated but it is MacGreevy the poet who is the pelling figure not MacGreevy the public intellectual. A reissue of Schreibman's excellent collected poems would therefore do more to recuperate MacGreevy from the margins of modernism than the life and work of Thomas MacGreevy is likely to achieve.
